Wife Asks Court To Protect Joyce From Woman's Lure

Mrs. Arthur St. George Joyce
Says Mrs. Hazel Sherman Followed Them From Philadelphia—Asks Injunction

Many friends and acquaintances of Arthur St. George Joyce, who recently came to Atlanta from Philadelphia to enter the local field as a public advertiser, were surprised Wednesday to learn that Mrs. Joyce has petitioned the United States court to prevent Mrs. Hazel C. Sherman from luring away the affections of her husband.

The case for an injunction temporarily restraining Mrs. Sherman from communicating with her husband, or from exercising her influence over him, and requiring that this injunction be made permanent by due process of law.
Judge W. D. Hill, with whom the petition was filed, stated that it was unusual, very unusual, but that he would grant the temporary injunction and set down the case for trial on Saturday morning.

INDIANA IS DAMAGED $25,000,000 BY FLOOD

State Commission Reports on Losses Caused by Overflow in March, 1913

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 13.—Tantamount losses in Indiana from the flood of 1913, were in excess of $25, 000,000, according to the Indiana state commission which has just completed its report. The damages to county roads and bridges alone were more than $5,000,000. The report also states that the loss to the state treasury from the flood was $2,000,000.

A number of recommendations for preventing floods are made, among them being the establishment of gauging stations on the streams, power when necessary, and the construction of levees to prevent the overflow of the streams.
It is probable the present session of the legislature will take some action in regard to floods.

BIG CROWD ATTENDS HEARING ON PETITION TO CUT CAR SERVICE

Roger Alexander, present representative of the Georgia Southern Railway, said that the Georgia Southern Railway Company had no objection to the petition to cut car service.

Detailing the latter objection, Mr. Alexander said the decrease began to show in June, 1914, and in August of the same year there appeared an actual increase in the gross revenue of the company from street car traffic. He said the loss was larger in September, still larger in November, and still larger in December.

After making his general argument, Mr. Alexander went into each particular line of business, showing the decrease in street car traffic. He first submitted a table showing the percentage of decrease in street car traffic for the month of December, 1917, as compared with the same month of 1915.

Tabriz, Second Largest Persian City, Held by Turks

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Reuters' Telegram company has received a dispatch from its correspondent at Petrograd saying that an advance detachment of the Turkish army has occupied the Persian city of Tabriz.

The taking of Tabriz means that the Turks, who undoubtedly had the backing of some of the wild Turkmen tribes of that locality have secured a more or less important base for the projected German-Turkish attack upon Russian positions in the province of Erivan, south of the Persian border and south of "Trifles."

KUSSANS EVACUATE CITY

The occupation of Tabriz was rendered comparatively easy for the Turks by the recent withdrawal of Russian forces to meet the Ottoman advance further west. Whether Tabriz was taken without bloodshed is not yet known but in the absence of Russian troops, it is not likely that Persia was able to offer serious resistance.

THE WINDOW LOOK

Running Things

Most of us think we could run the other fellow's business better than he does. That's quite a human weakness.

Everybody could improve his newspaper, for instance, and in consequence the editorial office gets many well-meant suggestions. But the publishing of a newspaper is a distinct work, and must be done on their own initiative by trained men who understand it.

Again, everybody could improve the car service on his line. He'd run the car faster, offer them more than his own, change their route. That may sound like a good idea, but it may be a bad one. The man's neighbors would make his ears burn. Patrons of other lines, having lost things that he might gain them, would rise up and speak loudly. That man would call for sanctuary, somewhere, soon. And shortly thereafter the sheriff would find the car company on the block—track, truck and trolley.

No business could succeed if conducted on the basis of exceptions and favoritism rather than rules. Least of all could a car line run that way. Thousands of people must be considered. The convenience of all must be consulted. Then the general average must be determined as accurately as possible, and that's what we must try to serve.

When you notice something you'd change, please measure it by this thought.

Succeeds Dr. BennettDR. ARCH CREE NAMED NEW BAPTIST SECRETARY

Election Comes After Board Asks Divine Guidance in Selection

The Georgia Baptist State Mission Board at a meeting held in Atlanta Tuesday elected Dr. Arch Cree, of Atlanta, to the position of corresponding secretary.

Dr. Cree is now enlisting secretary of the Baptist Home Mission Board and his election came about in a most remarkable manner, apparently as the result of divine guidance.

The state mission board last December elected to the position of corresponding secretary Dr. Charles W. Daniel, pastor of the First Baptist church of Atlanta, but he declined to accept, feeling it his duty to continue his present work.

The board when it met Tuesday to make another choice had nobody in mind. It was suggested that prayers be offered for guidance and this was done after which it was suggested that a straw ballot be taken to select a name had come into the mind of any member of the board.

Several names (among them Dr. Daniel) were mentioned but none received sufficient votes to indicate a majority. A straw ballot was taken, with still no result.

Dr. Cree was suggested, not in a straw ballot but in a speech, and immediately it was decided to accept him as secretary of the home mission board, which work he has been doing since he came to the board in 1912.

Dr. Cree received a majority of the votes. His election was therefore made unanimous.

Dr. Cree was elected to the position of secretary of the Georgia Baptist State Mission Board, which work he has been doing since he came to the board in 1912.

THEATERS

Magnificent! That's the way people who have visited the Forsyth this week talk about the bill that has crowded the busy theater at two matinees and two evening performances. There will be four more matinees and four more evening performances, including today, and with a constant rush for tickets the R. G. sign is going to be doing duty all the rest of the week.

Roche's "Colonial Days," the most elaborate musical offering on the vaudeville stage, tops the array of features. Claire Rochester, the Atlanta girl who has distinguished herself in vaudeville, is the added attraction, and among those who are making people glad they secured a seat for the performance is Will Rogers, excellent comedian and clever expert. Vaughan's "Confessors" and King King, the musical stars; Bertie Beaumont and Jack Arnold, in a regular comedy sketch; Mr. Hyman, the sensational change artist, and Delasalle, in hysterical gaminerie. The headline next week will be Gus Edwards' Matinee Girls, with Charlie O'Connell.

Raymond Hitchcock is to pay another visit and bring along a brand new musical comedy entitled "The Beauty Shop." The house of the musical comedy, Pollock and Remond Wolf, and the music by Charles J. Gebert, authors and composers of the hit "The Beauty Shop," "The Red Widow," it comes Friday evening, and it is a sure success. Seats are now on sale.

"The Beauty Shop" is a typical Hitchcock vehicle, full of good comedy lines, pretty girls, entrancing music and dancing, that is always a rare delight.

The attraction for Thursday and Friday at the Montgomery will be, Ethel Anderson in the "Nightingale." The "Nightingale" is considered to be one of the most beautiful and dramatic plays ever released, and the fact that Miss Barrymore is starring in this play, should be enough to insure its success. It is needless to state that many people not regular patrons of the theater will go to see Miss Barrymore this week.

NEW PHASE PRESENTED IN CREMATORY SUIT

Destructor Company Files Supplementary Bill in Action Against City

The crematory suit against the city took another turn Wednesday when the Destructor Company, which owns the plant, filed a supplemental bill in its action against the city. This bill, filed in the superior court, was referred to Frank E. Callaway, special master, who took evidence in the case.

The additional bill sets forth that after the test of the plant last August, the company detailed a draft fan in the chimney stack, which added greatly to the cost of the plant.

It also alleges that it costs the company 35 cents a ton to destroy garbage, but that the city allows it only 25 cents. A letter is attached to the bill in which the company offered to make another test of the plant during the week ending December 19.

BLISTERS ALL OVER BABY'S BODY

Itched and Burned. Clothing Irritated. Face Badly Disfigured. Used One Box Cuticura Soap and One Box Ointment. Before Finished Trouble Was Gone.

Rosie E. Huntington, Tenn.—At three months old my baby broke out with blisters all over his body. They would form sores which we could not cure. The blisters broke and burned his body. They itched and burned so that it was almost impossible for him to sleep at night. Whenever he awoke then they would make a bad sore and his clothing irritated them so that he kept me awake a greater part of the night. His face was badly disfigured.

I got different kinds of salves but they did not do any good. Then I noticed an advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment so sent for a sample. They helped him so much that I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. I would bathe him good in Cuticura Soap and apply the Cuticura Ointment twice daily and before I had finished them the sores had entirely disappeared and the trouble was gone. (Signed) Mrs. M. B. Nesbitt, Oct. 8, 1914.
